EIGHTH GRADE MEETS

Fred Jones.
 The eighth grade held its regular meeting last Friday morning at which time the class finished its organization.

The motion picture selected by the class is: "At The Footlights Climbing: the flower is rose, and colors are orange and blue. Dues of 25 cents per month were voted upon and passed by the class.

The program given by the class are: 1. Do one good deed each day. 2. Do as you are asked to do. 3. Initiate every new member of the class that comes in after the first two weeks of school.

The program given was "Kaleidoscope" by Norwood G. G. Wallace and Emily Smith, and a solo by Dorothy Smith.

Parents and friends of the eighth grade are cordially invited to attend the meetings each Friday morning at 8:30.

Mrs. and Mr. J. P. Rodgers were on account of the death of Mr. Rodgers' father. The pupils of the school will miss these two fine teachers.

Mr. Parker is substituting for Mr. Rodgers, and Mrs. Simmons is substituting for Mrs. Rodgers. Both of whom have had wide experience as teachers.

Miss Inez Williams is the father who is seriously ill. No word has been received from her as to the exact date that she will be able to return. Mrs. Gladys Mallard is taking her place during her absence.

Mr. Simmons and James Simmons are absent from school this week on account of the death of their grandmother.

P. T. A. NEXT MONDAY

The P. T. A. meeting was held last Monday evening, was postponed until next Monday, Oct. 12, due to a conflict with an important meeting of the Women's Club.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at 8:00 p. m. The purpose of the meeting is to be held to discuss the matter of the P. T. A. and to be given the room that has been the most popular for the meeting.

Who said Canal Point is not growing? If the number of children means anything, then this metropolitan city is starting to grow. The school registration of last term compared with this year. The first month last term Canal Point registered 157; the first month of this term is not ended yet, and there are 229 registered in school.

The new lunch time plan instituted at the school this year by Mr. Cox proves to be very satisfactory. Both to the teachers and to the benefit of the pupils. All pupils eating lunches on the ground are required to remain in the building for 20 minutes.

The players' only handicaps were deep sand, and spurs, and a few chickens to run on the lawn for each day. The practices were held every morning and evening. A swim was enjoyed between practices and every night and morning. The prize giving contest was held on Dan Padgett, from a four foot duck into "inches" of water. No one contested his claim.

For the meal, breakfast consisted of bread and beans; at noon it changed to beans and bread; and at night the menu was turtle meat topped off with beans and bread for dessert. The camp's antigen was "The Beans were bad and the Bread was Stale," to the tune of "Head Me Down My Walking Cane."

During the meals there was always a slight buzz of conversation regarding the food; how it was arranged and served, sometimes causing a slight uneasiness in the stomach.

Every boy had to serve his duty in the kitchen; this was called "K. P." (kitchen police).

ERIN JOHNS

The 4-H Club held a meeting in the Canal Point auditorium last Friday, including the seventh and eighth grades.

An election was held in which Lela Wallace was elected president. The meeting continued with Dorothy Shorer elected vice president. Margaret Hill, secretary; Blanche Sears, treasurer, and Erin Johns, scribe.

It was planned on what each girl was going to do; some are going to plant flower gardens and others vegetable gardens. Our next meeting will be October 23.

WON FIRST GAME

With Louis Goff, quarter and captain of the local high school team, starting with spectacular play, the game was won by the Pahokee Friday afternoon defeated the Punta Gorda high school team, 47 to 0, on the local field.

Vinson, Pahokee right end, scored the first touchdown in less than five minutes of play and by the end of the first quarter Pahokee high had pushed across three touchdowns and made two extra points.

Goff's broken field running and leadership at the quarter position was an outstanding part of the contest. The stocky "sensational" action for five of the local top positions, making a sensational dash from midfield at one part of the game to score.

Dagg's punting accounted for five extra points.

Following the margin established by the first string men, Pahokee's second club got practice in the final quarter of the game.

THE WHY OF FOOTBALL

Since football is a new game in this part of Palm Beach county it is thought that it would be well to write an article on what is expected of students who participate in every school sports in the Pahokee school. We are anxious to offer every opportunity to our boys and girls that are offered in the schools of the state and we are too anxious for the parents to know and understand just what we shall expect of their boys and girls.

First of all a student in order to participate in any form of athletics with competing teams must be a member of the State High School Athletic Association. This means that a student must carry a certain amount of work and doing the work fairly well. Our main object in athletics is to train our boys and girls physically, mentally and morally so as to fit them better for the life.

Training is not occult nor complicated; it is simply getting into condition to play. Training in a few words, is common sense living and intelligent hard work. The majority of football players progress to a certain point together. Then the man who is well trained forgets about the average natural ability and much good training will probably give nearly the same result as excellent natural ability and little training.

Conditions are evolving the possibility of a player to his highest state of mental and physical efficiency. The possibility of the con-

H. S. Lincoln and C. A. Johnson of the Chevrolet Motor Company's Jacksonville office, were callers in Canal Point and Pahokee the first of the week looking around to see what the prospects are for selling a lot of Chevrolet cars and trucks here this winter. They thought the prospect was good.

On the eve of the opening of the shipping season, railroads' freight carriers are coming in to get preliminary information and to plan their campaigns for business. Among the callers this week were A. R. Tilford of Miami, the Southern Railway's representative, and E. P. Sanford of the New York Central Lines.

C. G. Oldham of Leeburg and Cooter Hill, member of the firm of Beville & Oldham, visited Canal Point and Pahokee this week to call on his resident manager and discuss the outlook for the season's operations. The Everglades News acknowledges a pleasant call.

No heavy rains have fallen on the east coast or in the middle glades. West Palm Beach canal has stopped discharging into the lake. There is a slight eastward movement at the spillway some times but most of the time the water is stationary.

This was one week when there was a subject of conversation that put beans in the background—the base ball world series. While the games were on there was a group around every radio receiving set. Radio must be hitting the telegraph companies rather hard.

Having seen half of the United States in recent months during a search for a location, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Brackett, former residents of Canal Point, are back from Florida and are living at 2711 Lake avenue, West Palm Beach, for the time being. In a letter dated October 3 directing that his copy of "The Everglades News" be sent to the West Palm Beach address he relates that he stayed at Ashland, Oregon, three weeks and liked the country pretty well. "Only they priced their ranches too high."

Having gone west on the northern route he returned on the southern route, and—Florida looked green and beautiful after seeing so much country dried up from heat and no rain."

An Appeal To Public Spirit of the People of East Beach

At the request of a Central Committee, this appeal is made to the public spirit of the progressive people of East Beach—of Canal Point and Pahokee and residents on the roads leading to the towns.

The tourist season is coming on, and many out-of-state people will visit the Lake Okechobee region, and it is hoped that the appearance of the homes on East Beach will make the visitors think well of this region.

Very shortly the busy shipping season will be on, and people may not have time to fix up around their homes, but there is time for a good deal of improvement before that busy season comes on.

The Central Committee hasn't any funds to hire laborers to clean up lots or to hire trucks to haul rubbish away—the whole thing is up to the individuals of the community. People must be forced to clean up their yards and paint their houses—all that is done must be done voluntarily, and that is as much as the Central Committee can do.

The Central Committee has no plans so far except to ask for this voluntary cooperative action. After a week or two a survey will be made—the communities will be looked over and some sort of a plan will be made to do whatever else seems practical.

But first thing, right now, it is up to the citizens to start this thing themselves, for each one of us has his own place before he tells somebody else what to do. The committee says, "Please help and start it at once."

MORE LAND FARMED
All of the land fronting on the lake for nine miles between Canal Point and West Palm Beach canal and Fort Mayaca, St. Lucie canal will soon be in cultivation, and if the farmed portion of each mile of frontage extends back no more than a mile the total acreage will be over 5,000. Names of some of the farmers on new land are given along in this article.

The Mayaca Company has sections 22 and 23 on St. Lucie canal at the lake and the sections 26 and 27 south of that. Next, coming south, is the Tyner and Reynolds section 25 on the line of Martin and Palm Beach counties; and below that are M. D. Carmichael's sections 2 and 11. Development of which started last season and has been continued. This property is about half way between Canal Point and Port Mayaca.

Coming on south is the Model Land Company's half of section 14 and the Phillips' other half, both of which are being farmed. Then is section 25, which has been in cultivation for several years, and below that are the two sections north of the Canal Point townsite. A section contains 640 acres.

The Mayaca Company clears up some land every year, extending the growth of citrus and avocados as the truck crops go on the new lands; there is a railroad station there, and a few miles south is the loading station known as Sand Cut Sliding, and then the Canal Point station—three loading stations in a distance of eleven miles.

C. P. BOY SCOUTS
The Boy Scouts of Troop 21 of Canal Point held a meeting at the scout house October 6.

Mr. J. H. Pultz, Scoutmaster, talked about the trip to Okechobee lake battle fields which Richard Watkins, Junior Pultz and Mr. Chafer made on Friday.

Junior Pultz got the honor of having done the best good deed that week which was dragging a child out of a trestle.

Scouts present were Joe Tom Boynton, R. N. Uptegrove, B. A. Geiger, W. C. Neaves, Robert Stiles, Junior Pultz, Richard Watkins, Richard Tyner, Smiddy Winne, Junior Stuckey, Walter Milliken, Scoutmaster H. J. Chafer, Assistant Scoutmaster J. B. Cox and Mr. Kingley.

There will be a weekly scout meeting every Tuesday at the scout house beginning at 7:30 p. m. and will close at 8:30 p. m. WALTER MILLIKEN, Scribe.

4-H CLUB
Klouse Pultz
The 4-H Club girls of Canal Point had their first club meeting of the season on Friday, October 2. They elected officers as follows: President, Helen Brown; vice president, Ann Neaves; secretary, Myrtle Wille; treasurer, Nell Brown; and reporter, Elsie Pultz. Song leader, Annie Mae Holden; game leader, Roberta Wilson. We talked of making a larger and a better club. We did not have time for further matters. The next meeting will be held on Friday, November 6.

COMMUNITY GOSSIP

A Pahokee man played golf at Clewiston last week and was told that it was the practice to pay the caddy 75 cents. "Seventy-five cents for two hours?" he exclaimed; "why at Pahokee I can hire a nigger all day for a dollar."

The last session of the Florida legislature raised the rate that merchants have to pay for their licenses, and merchants at South Bay and Canal Point are glad that their towns are not incorporated, for they are glad to escape the municipal license after paying the higher state tax.

During the real estate boom the press agents for the land companies hired to write stories about how much money the farmers made. "There was one man named Grady who was written up frequently. He was in Canal Point the other day and he told me how it was. He said he had to have an alibi for his property in those days and he was eager to say he made his money farming that town which he made it moonshine."

Attendance at the base ball game Sunday suffered because there isn't as much thrif in a base ball game as in guessing what the price of beans is going to be.

The Hoover panic has been on for two years now and people are getting so used to hard times that present conditions seem normal. An ex-Georgian says, "It's just like being back home."

Fishing is better around the spillway, now that the canal is running from the lake instead of vice versa. Canal water impregnated with poisons from the swamps land had driven the fish out or killed them. Fish can't stand those poisons any better than beans, which is not at all.

To Make Better Towns,
As Well As Bigger Towns

If it is desired that Canal Point and Pahokee be bigger towns, a way to bring that about is to make them better towns, and by that process they will be both bigger and better, instead of merely bigger. There will be more employment in a bigger and better town, better wages, better neighbors, more retail trade and more solid values.

There is a means by which this can be brought about. Everybody knows what it is—it is to get rid of the weeds, mow the grass, paint the house and care for flowers and trees and shrubs.

There is a general feeling that it isn't worth while for just one or two people to try to fix up places, with the neighboring places all littered up; not worth while to plant a line of palm trees on a 50-foot lot if there are wide gaps on the road; not worth while to paint if the house next door is of such bad appearance that it runs down the neighborhood.

This is a very human feeling, and it has been taken into account by a committee that has been formed to meet the issue resolutely, and all of the objections are going to be overcome and there won't be any reason left for anybody not joining in.

This movement to make East Beach a pretty country is not a flash in the pan—it isn't going to die down; it will be carried over a long period, and the public-spirited men and women who are engaged in it are not going to be discouraged even if the thing goes kind of slow.

There isn't any desire to be dictatorial, the matter has got to be left to the sense of fairness of the property owners and renters, and the best way to get action is by the setting of a good example. Many good examples are going to be set and it is certain that they will be followed by others, so as time goes on progress will be made. East Beach, has a good class of people, who are proud of the country they live in; they want to make it a better place for their children, as well as for themselves.

Canal Point and Pahokee are not much holding their own in these hard times—they are getting to be bigger towns, and it is also pretty certain they will be better towns.

and a garage. A pleasant feature is the trees that provide shade and are grouped for good landscaping effect—rubber trees, cypress and Australian.

Signs are being placed on Grant & Hawkins' new building on Canal Point road in Pahokee and a fill is being made and the place put in ship-shape in all particulars. J. E.

Hawkins having sold his shoe store, he and J. U. Grant are devoting their whole time to the seed, fertilizer and crate material business for which the 50x100-foot building was erected. W. C. (Buck) Douthett and Harry Shepard are the clerks and warehouse men.

Murray Bennett of New York, a theatrical man who spent the winter in Miami, a friend of Herman Gold and Abe Dobrow, is figuring on taking a flyer in a bean crop in the lake region this season. He was in Pahokee the first of the week negotiating for the lease of some land.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Simpson, formerly of Statesboro, Ga., have taken an apartment in Mrs. Ora W. Ponder's building on the lake front. He is employed with the U. S. engineers' party. Lawrence Bennett of Belle Glade is staying in Pahokee to build the Rawls house.

Mrs. Chas. Kerr of Bacon Point boulevard, entertained Mrs. B. Elliott, formerly Miss Veila Parker, a sensational showgirl Friday afternoon, which was one of the most charming social events of the season. The guests were ushered in by Betty Jean McFarly and Evelyn Fields, who acted as pages and were pink and blue crepe paper dresses. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with pink and white roses and the bride's chair and gift basket were covered with white and tied on the corners with tiny pink bows. Mrs. Elliott wore a pink chiffon afternoon dress fashioned with a long bodice and circular skirt with accessories to match. During the afternoon the bride was presented with a "Bride's Book" in which the guests wrote their bits of advice. The color scheme of pink and white was carried further when the refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, was served.

There are so many men bathing at Canal Point that they would make a good-size Home Demonstration Club. Have you noticed that the daily papers often print housekeeping notes for the information of men?

Nowadays if a man is missing from his usual haunts he probably is out running a tractor.

LOOK AT LABEL TO SEE HOW FAR PAID

After each subscriber's name on the address label on his paper are figures that show the date to which he has paid—the time when his subscription expires, according to our records. Indeed, this is the only record we try to keep.

If the label says July 1, 1931, that means that the paper will be out at that time, or if it says February 15, 1931, that means that it has already run out. Sometimes we make mistakes, and if we do, we hope that subscribers will call our attention to it, so we can make it right.

The Women's Club of Belle Glade was organized in 1927 and is federated in the same year, being in section 10. Its club flower is the scarlet hibiscus and the club colors are scarlet and white, these colors being used in the title page of the year book. The special work of the club this year is education, fellowship and civic improvement.

Members of the club are: Mrs. J. P. Browne, president; Mrs. Lawrence Bessent, first vice president; Mrs. W. W. Miller, second vice president; Mrs. J. R. Noller, recording secretary; Mrs. J. N. Morris, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. H. Wellworth, treasurer; Mrs. George Tedder, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. A. Aly, Mrs. W. J. Buck, Mrs. E. A. Cook, Mrs. Adrian Dwyer, Mrs. W. Douglas, Mrs. W. G. Grier, Mrs. Joe Liberman, Mrs. J. P. McKown, Mrs. George Mucker, Miss Alice Reed, Mrs. J. F. Scullen, Mrs. H. C. Stuart, Mrs. D. T. Walters, Mrs. A. M. Webster, Mrs. J. O. Darden, Mrs. J. F. Shelton. As honorary members, Mrs. J. R. Hoch and Miss Bertha Albin.

Mrs. J. F. Browne, now president, was the president in the organization period of 1927 and 1928; her immediate successor was Mrs. D. V. Pace, who was followed by Mrs. D. V. Ferguson in the 1929-30 term.

"Let us be done with fault-finding and love of self-seeking. 'May we put away pretense and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice. 'May we never be hasty in judging and always generous. 'Let us take time for all things."

make us grow calm, serene, gentle. 'Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid. 'Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things in life we are one. 'And may we strive to touch and to know the great common woman's heart of us all, and O Lord, let us not forget to be kind."
